

An evening with Ben Moske

Ben Moske is no longer an unknown quantity in the North German singer-songwriter scene. He began his journey alone with his guitar, in the cafe and bar scene in Stade and the surrounding area. His wife Lilly later accompanied him and he swapped the bars for clubs and smaller stages.

Ben and his band create a varied, unforgettable and touching atmosphere at their concerts.

They take the viewer on a journey through Ben's life, told in varied folk, rock and country songs.

In keeping with his motto “Music gives people the chance to give space to the issues of their own soul,” an evening with Ben Moske and his band is an encounter with the issues in their hearts.
